Swami Paramarthananda

His Holiness Swami Paramarthananda, disciple of His Holiness Swami Dayananda Saraswati, studied Vedanta and Sanskrit under him for a period of three years at Sandeepany Sadhanalaya, Mumbai. After his studies and initiation, he went to Chennai and started teaching Bhagavadgita, Upanishads and other texts of Vedanta. He has been conducting weekly classes in different parts of Chennai for over 42 years. These classes are attended by hundreds of people of all ages and walks of life. He is well read in Sastras and is a great Sanskrit Scholar.

Uddhava Gita

Instructions to Uddhava by Lord Krishna known as 'The Uddhava-Gita' starts from Verse 40, Chapter 6, Book 11 of Shrimad-Bhaagavat Maha Puran and ends after Chapter 29. It has more than 1,000 verses. This is also called the farewell message of Lord Krishna, a parting discourse, and is meant for those students who have first thoroughly studied The Bhagavad-Gita.
